NUTRITION PLANNING

With 19 years of experience in the fitness industry, I am a results-oriented and passionate REPs Level 3 Certified Personal Trainer dedicated to helping clients achieve peak performance, optimal health, and long-term physical well-being. My approach combines scientific knowledge, practical experience, and individualized coaching to deliver sustainable and measurable results.

I also specialize in contest preparation for Men's Physique bodybuilding, guiding athletes through every stage of their journey—from off-season development to stage-ready conditioning. My programs emphasize physique balance, muscle definition, posing presentation, and evidence-based nutrition tailored to competition requirements.
